Seek Donations, Letters, For Oil Refinery Battle

By a 3-2 vote last Friday, the Monterey County Board of Supervisors rejected a petition requesting a referendum on the special permit granted to Humble Oil and Refining Company for a refinery at Moss Landing.

Despite the supervisors' decision not to accept the referendum petition, signed by 12,572 registered Monterey County voters, the fight against the refinery will continue on a nationwide scale, City Attorney William Burleigh states. Associated with him in the enlarged battle will be William Howard Church of Pebble Beach, a professor of business administration and economics at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School. They represent a group of persons who wish to remain anonymous.

Speaking for the group, Mr. Burleigh says,

"We feel that the enthusiasm shown by the public on the referendum petition warrants pressing the matter to the fullest extent, even though the petition was rejected by the board of supervisors. We are going to solicit donations from the public and from private donors for the purpose of pursuing the legal remedy."

"If sufficient money is donated, we will associate lawyers who have had experience in this type of legal action. If they are of the opinion that the matter should be brought to court, it will be done."

"My own preliminary investigation indicates that there is hope in obtaining a favorable outcome. The law states that legislative acts are subject to referendum. We feel that the board of supervisors legislated when they established, for the first time, a permanent, general policy in favor of combustion type, air-pollutant, water-pollutant industry."

"In addition to the referendum, we are attempting national and state publicity. A committee headed by William Howard Church is accepting donations in order to enlist the support of national media, also national and state personalities."

"Donations can be sent to Six Cities Fund, P.O. Box 1915, Carmel. If enough money is obtained, we will proceed. If any money is left over, it will be used either to oppose Humble Oil or as a donation to charity."

Mr. Burleigh also asks persons interested in stopping the refinery to state their opposition to it in letters addressed to Michael A. Haider, President, Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York City, New York (Zip Code 10020). Humble Oil is a subsidiary of the New Jersey company.

WATER BONDS DEFEATED

The Monterey Peninsula Municipal Water District's $17.5 million bond issue was defeated at the polls Tuesday by a 10,766 to 3,053 vote.

The water district is still in existence and can only be dissolved by an election requested by 25 percent of the registered voters in the Peninsula area. Taxpayers will be obligated to repay the $750,000 borrowed by the district in the past seven years. This sum was included in the defeated bond issue which would have covered the payment.

Paid Parking Project For Sunset Site

Carmel businessmen will be given an opportunity to participate in a pilot off-street parking project, using municipal property, if the city council approves a decision made last night.

Meeting in city hall, a joint committee composed of Councilmen Eben Whittlesey and James C. Buffington, Planning Commissioners Fred Keeble and William Godwin, and Sunset Commissioners Admiral C. W. Fisher and Dr. James Gilman discussed establishing paid parking on the Sunset Center site with Mr. Buffington as chairman.

They unanimously decided that daytime parking on the periphery of the unpaved north playground and central paved area in front of the auditorium should be made available, for a fee, to the business people of the city.

This parking should not materially interfere with recreational uses of the baseball field, daytime use of the auditorium and parking for the tenants of the city's municipal cultural and community (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Patron Saint Of Carmel Mission Again To Be Honored With Fiesta

Because of the great success of La Fiesta de San Carlos de Borromeo at Carmel Mission Basilica last year, also the demand for a repeat of the event, plans are underway for another fiesta on October 10.

The traditional event was revived in 1964 after a lapse of 27 years. The gala is being planned again by the four parish organizations who have joined forces to form a fiesta committee.

The celebration will include a chicken barbecue with music, dancing and other entertainment in the Mission patio. The public is invited to attend.

The sponsoring organizations are the Knights of Columbus, Billy Burke Council; the Mothers' Club of Junipero Serra School; the Catholic Daughters; and the Altar Society.

It is announced by Mrs. Sal J. Nicita, publicity chairman, that Phillip Coniglio of the Knights of Columbus will serve again as general chairman of the fiesta committee. Harry Downie, Mission curator, is providing the group with historical background material.

From the earliest days of the mission, the feast of San Carlos de Borromeo, patron saint of the mission, was an important annual event. Many Indians of the Costanoan tribe, perhaps as many as 900, would gather together for the occasion in the very early days. Although a day of religious significance, it was also the main social event among the Mission Indians. The Fiesta de San Carlos continued to be observed by the Indians even through the years that the mission was abandoned. When the church was rebuilt, the fiesta again became a regular parish activity until 1937.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Fire Prevention Week will be celebrated by the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department with their annual parade at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday, accompanied by appropriate noise, followed by a water fight. On Monday and Wednesday, teachers will escort students to the fire house to view equipment and learn about the volunteers' work.

The Rhyming Philosopher

By Harry W. Fletcher

No. 125

When autumn comes, as come it must
In season, then dead leaves will fall
Which once were green, now sore
With rust,
Disperse like dreams beyond recall.

We, too, had thoughts born brave and bright,
Unspoken words of love now gone;
Well-meant intentions lost to sight;
Encouragement to build upon.

Too often kindness left undone
May cause a lonely heart to sigh.
A word of praise for merit won
Costs little, yet is valued high.

How often promise fails our needs,
And hopes that might have soared
fall dead
Because for want of words or deeds
Some hungry soul finds tears instead.

More about our bluejays. Billie and Jim Newmarch maintain a "buffet" for birds outside their home. Several days ago Billie was a little late putting out the food. There she was in the kitchen making her early morning coffee when she was startled by a blue jay perched on the window sill and telling her in no uncertain manner what it thought about her tardiness. And it kept on scolding until she rushed out, coffeeless, with food to fill its raucous mouth.

A young Carmel High graduate whose name is Terre hurriedly scrawled it "Terry" when she recently enrolled at college and has been flooded with literature and invitations from campus fraternities. Now domiciled in a sorority house, she is still explaining why she keeps receiving folios from the brotherhoods.

A local mother, in an excess of good will or idiocy, recently allowed her daughter to acquire a colt and is now threatening to eat it or take to bay rustling in the dark of the moon. A helpful promotion-minded friend has suggested she initiate "Take a Horse to Lunch Week."

Every tree that's cut down in Carmel is a threat to me, a pine nut. As for anyone who'd cut down a city tree without a permit, I've never been able to figure out what the city council should consider a really good punishment. This week I found it. Seems that in the old days in Russia, a man could be sent to Siberia for such a crime. They really played it cool in those pre-Communist times.

The most surprised lady in town recently was Joan Solak. Answering a knock on her door, she was greeted by a strange man singing "Happy Birthday To You." When he was finished he said, "Here are the keys to your new car." Outside was a lovely white convertible, a present from Joan's husband, Jorg. The new car makes Joan's return to Carmel, after five years in Belgium, even happier than she and Jorg imagined it would be during their "exile" abroad. And they looked forward a great deal to coming home.

I'm told there's a daily tip sheet published on the Peninsula but I think it's just a lot of bull.

Planning Commission Chairman Dorothy von Meier continues to keep her fellow planners informed of her round-the-world travels by picture postcard and verse appropriate to the scene pictured. Her communication from Barcelona, Spain, follows.

Here's Las Ramblas and Colombo and Montserrat high Brooding and watchful — a guardian eye
O'er Gaudis Sagrada Familia
and Tibidabo
And Christopher Columbus'
monumento
Paella and sangria and almond-arettas
And baskets of bottles on mulettas.
Flashing black eyes; laces and

Two bull rings echo with lusty

And Catalan dreams of more

Distinguished news analyst and correspondent John Morley, above, returns as the first speaker of the 1965-66 season of the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday at 2 p.m. at the organization's club house.

The recipient of numerous awards as a lecturer and reporter, including "America's Highest Speaker's Award," Mr. Morley is the author of the syndicated column "After Hours" and of articles in such periodicals as Reader's Digest and Saturday Evening Post.

Mr. Morley will report on his latest trips which have taken him to Russia, Red China, Cuba, Cyprus, the Congo, Saigon and other troubled spots and he will give the background of the current news based on his personal interviews with such world leaders as Presidents de Gaulle, Nasser, Makarios and China's Premier Chou En-Lai.

Mrs. Dudley Miles, hospitality chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Lawrence H. Lyon, Mrs. Wallace H. Lowry and Mrs. Al Wells.

Four former club presidents, Mrs. H. C. Schroeder, Miss Ianthe Densmore, Mrs. Barbara Murphy and Mrs. Carl E. Menneken, will preside at the tea tables following the meeting.

CRATS

Letter To Editor

Editor
Carmel Pine Cone
Since the time is at hand for the DOLLARS FOR DEMOCRATS Drive, (October 2-3) I think it is the responsibility of every thinking Democrat to again evaluate this program and the reasons for contributing to it.

To me the most pressing reason is that I believe fully in the principle of government "of the people, by the people, and for the people." If every party member contributes so that funds come from many people giving a few dollars each, rather than a few people contributing $1,000 or $10,000 each, we have participation on a much broader scale, and no candidate obligated to a small group. This certainly is where government of the people has its initial beginning.

When we have a stake in something, we are apt to become well-informed and give strong support to the person or issue in which we have invested. In turn, this person becomes more responsive to the needs and desires of the people supporting him, and the issues he supports will be those asked for by the people. This eventually can only result in a government which is sensitive to

"Amazing Hunzaland," the only film ever made in the high Himalayan "valley of eternal youth," will be narrated by Renee Taylor, above, explorer, writer and lecturer, at Sunset auditorium tomorrow at 8:15 p.m.

Unlike author James Hilton's fabled Shangri-la of "Lost Horizon," this land is real, attests Mrs. Taylor. Fascinated, as many have been, by centuries-old rumors of an earthly Utopia in this isolated section of the world, she gained permission for the arduous journey into Hunza from its ruler, Mir Mohammed Jamal Khan, and subsequently became a guest in the palace of the English-speaking royal family.

In Hunza, Mrs. Taylor says, one finds no jails, no police, no army. Divorces are unknown and juvenile delinquency does not exist. There men and women remain youthfully active throughout their lives, and many live well past the age of 100.

She maintains that there is ample proof that isolation is not the sole reason for their physical well-being and attributes much of this to their dietetic practices and agricultural methods.

Since becoming aware of the Hunza people about 15 years ago, Mrs. Taylor has devoted a great deal of study to their health, longevity and philosophy and is the author of three books about them, the latest being "Hunza Health Secrets."

The feature-length color film is the first of three in the Explorerama-Carmel series, sponsored by the Explorers Club of San Francisco which uses proceeds to provide scholarships to science students. Dwight Long's "Spain" will be presented on October 15 and Earl Brink's "Switzerland" on October 29.

'Andy' Wiemann Married

At home in Carmel after a brief honeymoon in Yosemite are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wiemann, the former Gladys Colvin of San Francisco, whose marriage took place Friday at Saint Timothy's Lutheran Church in Monterey. Mr. and Mrs. James Lloyd Womble, close friends of the couple, witnessed the afternoon ceremony which was read by the Reverend James Spaid.

A small group of friends attended a reception at Del Monte Lodge for the newlyweds, who plan a more leisurely wedding trip in November, when they will travel in the South.

Guests From Canada

It will be a weekend filled with music memories for Mrs. Jerome Carlson (Jehanne Bietry-Salinger) when her old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Blackstone of Toronto, Canada, come for a three-day visit at the Carlson home.

Mr. Blackstone was violist of the Hart House Quartet, now no longer in existence but remembered by hosts of music lovers in this area as well as in other parts of the United States. The members of the quartet were all close friends of the then Mrs. Herbert Salinger and her late husband and many a rehearsal of the fine-string ensemble was held in their Toronto home.

The Blackstones will spend the next few months in Palm Springs, where they have enjoyed many a winter in the past. This will be Mrs. Blackstone's first visit to Carmel, and Mrs. Carlson is looking forward to sharing some of its delights with her friend.

Osbornes Returned

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Osborne have returned to Pebble Beach after a summer in Denmark and Paris. While in Denmark, the Osbornes established their daughter, Polly, in the Institute of the Assumption at Copenhagen, where she will spend the school year. Known also as the French School, classes are taught in Danish to local students and in English to visiting students, who come from various foreign countries.

A Family Affair

As the sky darkened Saturday, huge bonfires blazed at Stillwater Cove where a large number of Beach Club members gathered for a family beach picnic. Mike Noon's songs for the small fry as well as their more sophisticated parents drew the huge crowd together around the fire.

Among those who enjoyed the al fresco event were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Catlin, Mr. and Mrs. James Cost, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bouhaben, Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge Bray, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Clark Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Julian, Mr. and Mrs. William Godwin, Mr. and Mrs. William Durney, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill, Mr. and Mrs. William Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Darius Keaton, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. August Armanasco, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ramsey Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. William van der Sluis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kalmbach.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fee, Mr. and Mrs. Stoddard Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Aime G. Michaud and their houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. George Rainsford of Palo Alto, Mrs. George M. Burton, Mrs. Edith Clancy, Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Cater, General and Mrs. Frank Culin Jr., Stuyvesant Fish, Gorham Knowles, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Schma, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Wedlake, Leonard Hawxhurst, Mrs. Richie Dunn and Dr. and Mrs. Arland Lackey.

A Son For The Chryslers

The arrival of the first child for Mr. and Mrs. Gage Griffin Chrysler Jr. has been as eagerly awaited by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gage Griffin Chrysler Sr., as by his parents. Born at Community Hospital on Friday, the baby has been named Gage Griffin Chrysler III for his grandfather and is receiving expert attention from his paternal grandmother.

The junior Chryslers, who were married in Monterey in 1963, made their home in Los Angeles until April, 1964, when they returned to Carmel. "Griff," as the baby's father is known, is associated with Nielsens Grocery, and the senior Chryslers are the proprietors of the Donut Den.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Maul of Inglewood are the baby's maternal grandparents.

Judy Returned to UCLA

Judy Kratky has returned for her senior year at the University of California at Los Angeles after "a wonderful year" at the University of Madrid. Before she returned to spend the summer vacation with her mother, Mrs. Ladislav Kratky of Carmel Valley, Judy joined friends for an eight weeks' tour of Europe and enjoyed a visit with her grandparents in Czechoslovakia.

People On The Move

No one can apply the word "sedentary" to Carmelites. This week the Mark Thomases departed for a cruise of the Orient, Harriet Duncan is in Europe and Mrs. Audrey Marten Tetley is traveling in the British Isles before proceeding to the continent and, eventually, Spain, where Mrs. D. Paul McKelvey plans to join her later.

Planiat Gilbert Boyer and his artist wife, Louise Cardeiro Boyer, returned to Carmel last week after an absence of over four years, three of which were spent in Mexico, Central and South America, and the last in Europe. Their numerous friends, delighted to have them back, are anxious to hear of their experiences with the Laubach foundation literacy project. The Harlan Wares are expected to return soon after a sojourn at their Michigan "farm" which they bought last year.

Last week, the Donald Teagues were en route to London from Europe, where they have been traveling, and are due back in mid-October.

Mrs. Lila Kawanakoa will again make her home in the Islands, at least until she feels the urge to see the Peninsula once more.

San Francisco reporter George Draper rode his trusty bike into town this week to see a few old friends before wheeling down the coast highway to Southern California.

Niels Reimers is back after a visit to his native Norway this summer.

Photographer Visited

Michel Oriano, cultural attache of the French embassy in San Francisco, sends some interesting people to Carmel. This week, his recommendation brought Mlle. Michelle Vignes, free lance photographer and a member of the staff of "Elle" magazine, who is currently working in San Francisco.

Mlle. Vignes has been engaged in public relations work for the United Nations in New York for some time and before that was with UNESCO in Paris. During her "apprenticeship" as a photographer, she was associated with the famous Magnum picture service in Europe and was able to observe the techniques of such widely admired photographers as Henri Cartier-Bresson.

David Was Impressed

David Roberts, who spent three weeks in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, with his brother, Deo, and two friends from Los Angeles, returned in a state of euphoria, according to his mother, Mrs. Kenneth Roberts.

Margaret and Bert Dienelt, back in the tropical port after their summer here, found the boys a lovely house high above the river and entertained them royally. Deo, who has been to Vallarta several times, arranged a trip by horseback into the rugged jungle back country which surrounds the resort. The group also enjoyed deep-sea fishing, swimming and "people watching" on the beaches and in the villages.

Welcome For A Bride

Following their return to the Peninsula yesterday, newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Merle Armitage (Marlinde von Ruhs) will be welcomed this evening by a small and informal gathering at the home of Mrs. Barbara Tripp. Marlinde, known widely as a talented painter, was married to Mr. Armitage on Monday at the Prescott, Arizona, ranch of his friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gail Gardiner.

Renowned as a designer and publisher of fine books, Mr. Armitage is well known in many other fields. A painter himself, as well as a writer, his art collection is internationally famous.

The Armitages will divide their time between Marlinde's studio home in Carmel Valley and her husband's ranch near Palm Springs.

HONOR CANDY STRIPERS

Forty-five junior and senior girls from six Peninsula high schools received certificates and award pins on Saturday at a buffet luncheon given by the Community Hospital administration in appreciation of their summer work as Candy Stripper hospital volunteers.

Attended by members of the executive committee and service chairmen of the Community Hospital Auxiliary, the luncheon for the girls was followed by talks by Thomas Tonkin, hospital administrator, and John Williams, his assistant. A program of entertainment was given by Martha Smith, daughter of Mrs. Marty Heller. Mrs. William Byrnes, president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Candy Stripper chairman, presented awards and certificates.

During the summer Candy Strippers assisted auxiliary members at the reception desk, evening desk, snack bar and library; in x-ray, transportation, physical therapy and central supply departments of the hospital.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS JAMBOREE — BARBECUE

Sunday afternoon, the Monterey County Young Republicans will hold a jamboree-barbecue at the Monterey County fairgrounds. The festivities will begin at noon when booths with interesting exhibits will be opened. There will be games and prizes for the whole family. The barbecue will start at 1 p.m., and at 2:30 o'clock there will be a special program featuring George N. Crocker, nationally-known author and newspaper columnist, as honored guest and principal speaker.

Other honored guests will be Floy Archer, California State Chairman of the Young Republicans, and a National Young Republican committeeman, Kent Kaiser.

The public is invited to attend and tickets are 50 cents for admission to the jamboree and $1.50 for the barbecue. They are obtainable by calling: 659-2351, 372-5951, or 375-8874. Children accompanied by their parents will be admitted free.

SENATOR FARR PRESIDES AT PENINSULA MEETINGS

Yesterday and today, State Senator Fred Farr of Carmel, chairman of the fact-finding committee on natural resources of the California Senate, is presiding over public hearings in the Monterey city council chambers. At the request of the Senate, the group is gathering information concerning state licensing of pleasure craft. The number of boating accidents in California led to the consideration of this matter.

GRAND MARSHAL PON CHUNG

This week 1,000 firemen have been attending meetings of the California State Firemen's Association on the Peninsula. Tuesday night, Pon Chung, honorary fire chief of the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department, was grand marshal of a parade in Monterey which lasted for an hour and a half. Also in the parade, which included fire equipment from Peninsula and other cities, were Mayor Herbert Blanks and City Administrator Hugh Bayless.

SCHOLARSHIP BENEFIT

The Carmel Kiwanis Club will offer "The Best Rummage on the Peninsula," according to a club spokesman, at the organization's annual rummage sale at the American Legion Hall on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Funds raised through the sale of clothing, books, household and garden articles, plants and other items are earmarked for the Kiwanis Scholarship Fund.

Rahes Are New Residents

New Carmel residents are Dr. and Mrs. George A. Rahe and their four children, who moved here this summer from Southern California following Dr. Rahe's appointment as an associate professor of electrical engineering at the U.S. Naval Post Graduate School.

A former coordinator for off-campus graduate engineering programs at the University of California at Los Angeles, Professor Rahe also has served as a research engineer on such widely known projects as the "Man in Space" and "Orbiting Solar Observatory" programs. He received his B.S. and graduate degrees in engineering from U.C.L.A. and is a veteran of Marine Corps service in the Korean war.

The Rahes' children are Teri and Diane, who attend Middle School; Kathy, a student at Woods School; and Paul, aged four, who proclaims in no uncertain terms that he, also, goes to school.

Dr. Donald E. Kirk, an instructor at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School from 1959 to 1962 while working on his M.S. degree, has assumed the post of assistant professor of electrical engineering at the school. A former instructor of this subject at the University of Illinois, where he received his Ph.D. degree, he has also served as a staff engineer for Grumman Aircraft and Sangamo Electric. He is currently engaged in research on optimal control systems.

Julie Begins Training

Julie Campbell, who graduated from the University of Oregon in June, left this week for Miami Beach, Florida, where she will begin a six weeks' training course as a hostess for Pan American Airlines. The daughter of Judge and Mrs. Gordon Campbell, Julie was La Favorita at this year's Merienda celebration of Monterey's 195th birthday.

College In The 50th State

Sallie Stean, a June graduate of Carmel High School, has enrolled at Church College of Hawaii and is already in residence at the 1,000-student institution at Laie on Oahu. Since Sallie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stean, consider Honolulu almost a second home, it is no accident that their daughter has chosen to further her education in one of the loveliest spots in the world.

Victoria Brought Memories

Nostalgia for her native Britain and former home in Radlett, Hertfordshire, prompted Christine Coffey to head for Vancouver, British Columbia, for a week's vacation from her duties at Del Monte Lodge. It was all she hoped, the British touch beginning at the charming harbor where a piper pipes the visitors ashore within sight of massive parliament buildings surrounded by beautiful gardens and spacious lawns.

Afternoon tea at the ivy-clad Empress Hotel, she reports, was not the leisurely meal she had been led to believe, since visitors swelled the service to an average of 2,000 a day! Otherwise, Miss Coffey was enchanted with her visit and returned with memories of the flower-filled baskets hanging from the lamp posts, red double decker buses as authentic as steak and kidney pie, the numerous shops filled with English goods and, not least, delicious and inexpensive fish and chips.

Carmel Is Home Again

Having established his family in Carmel and enjoyed a leave between assignments, Lieutenant Colonel John Culin left this week to report for duty in Viet Nam. No newcomers here, both Colonel and Mrs. Culin attended local schools and their families have long been residents of the area. Mrs. Culin is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Rolf Bolin.

After their arrival from Hawaii, where Colonel Culin was last stationed, there was a family reunion at the home of his parents, Major General Frank L. Culin (USA ret.) and Mrs. Culin, at their Monterey Peninsula Country Club home. Here from Tucson for the get-together were Colonel Culin's sister, Mrs. James B. Scott, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Culin III.

The Culins' daughters, Nancy and Susan are attending Carmel High, while their son, Johnny, is enrolled at Robert Louis Stevenson School.

Insurance Agent Retires

Harry N. Lyon, chartered life underwriter, has announced his retirement as general agent for The Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia in Monterey. Throughout his career of 32 years with the company, he has qualified 18 times for the National Quality Award and as a Life Member of the Million Dollar Round Table and has been the recipient of many other awards. He joined the organization in San Francisco and, until 1960, was associated with agencies in that area.

A graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, with the present rank of Brigadier General (Retired), U.S. Marine Corps Reserve, Mr. Lyon saw active duty in World War II. At Annapolis, he was an intercollegiate middleweight and light-heavyweight boxing champion.

The Thatchers Visited

Mrs. Andrew Del Monte confesses that she is completely captivated by her young granddaughter, Debbie Thatcher, who paid her a visit last weekend in the company of her mother, Mrs. Peter (Andrea) Thatcher of Lafayette. While Debbie and her mother enjoyed their civilized comforts, Mr. Thatcher and their son, Robert, joined the Indian Guide father and son camp-out at Big Sur. Also camping, but in Sonoma, were the other Thatcher boys, Stephen and Michael, who were engaged in a rugged Boy Scout outing.

Sorority Pledges

The first news of sorority affiliations of freshmen entering college comes from the University of Colorado, where Marilyn Haber has pledged to Kappa Alpha Theta and Terre Stier to Kappa Kappa Gamma. June graduates of Carmel High School, Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Haber of Carmel Valley and Terre's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George F. Stier of Carmel.

Mary Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Pierce Parsons of Carmel, has pledged Kappa Alpha Theta at the University of the Pacific. Mary is a graduate of Pacific Grove High School.

EZIO FLAGELLO

Ezio Flagello, above, will open the 1965 Carmel Music Society season on October 9 in Sunset Center auditorium. He is the leading basso of the New York Metropolitan Opera Association. Last Fall he scored a triumph when he appeared as the first American ever to sing the title role of Verdi's "Falstaff" at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Still in his early thirties, Ezio Flagello was born in the Bronx. His musical heritage included a grandfather who studied with Verdi and conducted a town band in Italy.

As a child, Basso Flagello studied the violin and piano. He intended to become a dentist but when his rich voice began to mature he started to study voice with the Wagnerian baritone, Friedrich Schorr. During service with the U.S. Army, his voice was used for recruiting purposes. At the end of his Army duty, he was awarded a Fulbright Grant to complete his voice studies in Europe and was signed to sing with the Teatro dell Opera of Rome.

Following his return, to the United States, Ezio Flagello won the Metropolitan Auditions of the Air and made his debut with the Metropolitan company in 1957 in "La Tosca." A little more than a week later, the indisposition of a colleague led to the young basso's debut in the lead role of Leporello in "Don Giovanni."

The next day newspapers echoed the applause of the audience the evening before and Ezio Flagello was acknowledged as an artist of the first caliber. This led to major roles in "Martha," "Le Nozze di Figaro" and "Aida." Besides the Metropolitan Opera, Ezio Flagello has sung with the Philadelphia Lyric, Pittsburgh Opera, Houston Grand Opera Association and the Connecticut Opera Association.

Sunset Commission Wants Council To Review AFA Action

"I am terribly disappointed with the city council," Mrs. W. E. van Loben Sels told other Sunset commissioners Monday night when discussion of the use of the Sunset Center cafeteria and kitchen areas by the American Federation of Arts was discussed.

Mrs. van Loben Sels was referring to city council action that set the rent of the cafeteria at $100 a month instead of allowing free use of the area recommended by the Sunset Commission.

Leonard Heller, president of the Monterey Peninsula AFA chapter, discussed a letter to the commission in which he stated that the month to month basis on which the council granted the cafeteria rental, with a review of the rent next June, plus indication that should a tenant who would pay higher rent be forthcoming the arrangement with the AFA would be terminated, gave no assurance of permanency to any establishment of AFA workshops at Sunset Center. In addition, Mr. Heller stated that as no funds had been budgeted, the proposed rental could not be paid by the AFA this year. He asked Sunset commissioners to request the council to reconsider their action.

"I wish the city council had heard what the AFA is doing for the children of this area," Mrs. van Loben Sels said after Mr. Heller described the chapter's children's art activities. In order that the council can hear about this phase of the AFA program, commissioners voted to send a summary of Mr. Heller's remarks taken from the tape of Monday's meeting along with a request that the council again consider the Sunset Commission report recommending free AFA use of the cafeteria.

Although commissioners had no objection to an arts commission request to use Room 11 at Sunset for a children's art museum, they decided to ask for more definite information on this project before making the allocation. This information would establish whether or not the project was to be a museum to house purchased children's work or just to be an exhibition gallery.

Staffing of the undertaking also needed clarification so that Sunset Commissioners could be assured that custodial help at the city facility would not be involved.

The Junior League was given permission to use Sunset auditorium, at a cost of $50, for two free children's concerts by the Monterey County Symphony on January 15. Sunset commissioners decided that the Carmel Board of Realtors could use the auditorium with a similar financial arrangement on December 8 when a speaker on environmental design will be brought to Carmel as a public service.

New Studio Theatre Play Thoroughly Pleasant Fare But A Trifle Unrealistic

BY DOROTHY REED

Dinner and theatre at the Studio Theatre Restaurant provide a thoroughly pleasant evening. The menu is excellent, the decor charming, the atmosphere intimate and cozy. Mike Keller, director of the current production, "The Hasty Heart," doubles as a gracious host during the dinner hour.

If the play itself is reminiscent of one's days in the high school drama club, the responsibility must be mainly the author's. John Patrick might be said to have created an accidental forerunner of theater of the absurd, as he depicts an army hospital where fresh-faced boys loll comfortably on their bed and duel with flyswatters, dreaming gentle and gallant dreams of home. A girl in white flits in and out, playing Florence Nightingale.

Three of the boys in the beds are cheerful wounded soldiers of World War II from America, Australia and England. The fourth, a Basuto, speaks no English. His buddies, whose thoughts and vocabularies are almost as pure as Queen Victoria's, have given him a name—"Blossom." Lacking from the scene is any sense of illness or pain, of boredom, shock or heat (this is Burma), of any of the realities or discomforts of war. Such is the air of gayety that a single cracked laugh at this point would tell us where we are—on the psychiatric ward. Not so however; all this jolly comradeship is for real.

On this basis of critical faculties suspended, the action goes forward very nicely. Billed as a comedy, the play gets most of its laughs from a running gag about what, if anything, goes under a Scotsman's kilt. The real theme is far from comic—whether friendship and love, proffered to a man who is unknowingly a few weeks from death, are acts of human sympathy or unforgivable frauds.

The characterizations as written are one—or at most two-dimensional. John Soprano plays Lachlen, a Scottish sergeant with a fatal disease, brought into the company to ease his last days. He is required to metamorphose from an absolute boor to a lump of taffy and back again and forth again, and very sensibly sticks to a firm stability of face and body to offset his psychological gyrations. Layne Littlepage as the slightly unpressed angel of mercy who must promise to marry the doomed man, is a very busy girl with all those trays, and wisely does not let her emotions shake her up.

Two of the minor characters play scenes with real emotional impact. The colonel, John Beckman Jr., is ordered to break the news to Lachlen that he must die soon. His anguish as he carries out the order is impressive and moving. Subsequently, King Smart as Blossom acts out the tragedy of misunderstanding and being misunderstood as he offers a simple gift to the now disillusioned Lachlen and is savagely rejected. Rick Wolf, the American sergeant and leader of the group, therefore tells off the self-centered Scot in the third best scene of the play.

A certain casualness is evident in casting and stage business. Jerry Don Johnson is charming as the Cockney Tommy, but pillows do not a fat man make—especially if they peek out from underneath his pajamas. Rick Wolf shows a great deal of promise and he is a very big boy, but he can only be a boy playing a soldier—war-hardened sergeants may be as young as he, but not so youthful. The flippant back rubs add to the make-believe hospital atmosphere, the offstage bagpipe music is poorly coordinated with the action, and there can be no excuse for taking pictures without snapping the camera shutter or advancing the film. It is hard to blame the actors, however, for not playing this story over-conscientiously. It still makes a very pleasant evening.

"The Hasty Heart" will continue at the Studio on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights through November 14.

New Restaurant At Del Monte Lodge

A new restaurant and bar at Del Monte Lodge, to be known as CLUB XIX, will open to the public on Sunday.

Located on the ground floor just off the 18th green of the famous Pebble Beach Golf Links, the new installation has a sweeping view of the golf course and Carmel Bay.

During the daylight hours it will, in reality, be the clubroom for the Pebble Beach Golf Course. A spike-proof carpet will permit golfers to enter without changing their shoes and there will be an informal club-like atmosphere.

Architects Gardner A. Dailey of San Francisco and William D. Concolino of Monterey have combined their talents to design an impressive room paneled in ash which opens onto a brick terrace. The huge mirror over the bar captures the view of Carmel Bay through the many floor-to-ceiling windows.

The restaurant operation, exclusive of the bar, has been leased by the D'Agliano family (Raffaello and Remo, formerly of Domenico's) and will be known as "Raffaello's" in Club XIX.

Luncheon will be served from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. and sandwich service from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. From 6 p.m. until 10 p.m. dinner will feature the classic cuisine of Tuscany. The restaurant will be closed Mondays for luncheon and dinner but open for bar and sand-

JOHN GOSLING

With a star-studded roster of soloists, a highly varied repertoire of classical, baroque and contemporary compositions, and a full complement of enthusiastic and experienced musicians, Conductor and Music Director John Gosling, above, will raise his baton on the evening of October 19 in Sunset auditorium, thus signalling the opening of the 20th anniversary season of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra.

In tempo with the gala mood of the first night audience (season subscribers have already made reservations for every seat available in the auditorium) the program will open with Rossini's festive overture, "La Gazza Ladra."

Featured soloist of the evening will be Raymond Fabrizio, flutist, who will be heard with the orchestra in the performance of "Night Soliloquy" by Kenan. Long a favorite with Bach Festival as well as symphony audiences, Mr. Fabrizio recently returned from Mexico where he was soloist in the Guanajuato Summer Music Festival.

Creston's "Corinthians XIII. Op. 82," will be heard for the first time on the West Coast the same evening.

The program will conclude with the Brahms "Symphony No. 1, in G. Minor, Op. 68."

Other soloists who will appear during the 20th anniversary season are Alma Bonner, soprano; Rudolph Firkusny, pianist; and Rolf Storseth, cellist.

A West Coast "first" during the coming symphony season of special interest to local audiences will be the performance of an original composition by David Mulder of Salinas. Also to be heard for the first time by West Coast audiences will be Yardumain's choral prelude on plainsong "Veni Sancte Spiritus."

wich service.

For those having luncheon or dinner, the 17-Mile-Drive gate fee will be refunded upon presentation of the gate receipt.

LODI ANTIQUE SHOW

The Lodi Woman's Club will conduct its seventh annual antique show and sale at the clubhouse, 325 West Pine Street this weekend.

There will be a display of antique furniture, glassware, china and silver on Friday and Saturday from noon until 9 p.m. Sunday show hours will from noon till 7 p.m.

Every floor of the large clubhouse will be used for the glittering displays, all from reputable dealers, according to Mrs. Lloyd Madison, show chairman.

Admission is $1.00 and gift certificates redeemable at any dealers' both will be offered as prizes each day.

On Sunday, the congregation of the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula attended a service of consecration on the site near the entrance to Carmel Valley where their church will be built. The youth of the church, represented by JoAnn Fehring, erected a cross at the base of which vines were planted by young children whose spokesman was Randall Keith.

In the picture above, Howard Timbers, a member of the congregation, adjusts the cross which he made using a piece of solid maple driftwood which he found on Carmel Beach. At left is John Farr, who is music director for the church. Next to him are Dr. Ronald J. Menmuir who assisted the minister of the church, the Reverend Burkert Cree, left, in conducting the dedication which was patterned after such services in early New Testament times when a worship place was consecrated by simply holding a service with no special rites observed.

New members received into the congregation at the service in the Valley were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Avila, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beshore, Mrs. Elmer A. Breckenfield, Mrs. Dorothy T. Colvin, Melinda and Richard Colvin, Mrs. Harriet A. Kennedy and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keith.

NEW ASSOCIATE

Dr. V. J. Marasco is pleased to announce the association of Dr. Ronald A. Ridgway with the Carmel Veterinary Hospital.

Born and raised in Seattle, Washington, Dr. Ridgway studied for a year at the University of Washington, then transferred to San Diego State College for two years and completed work for bachelor and doctor of veterinary medicine degrees at the University of California at Davis.

He and his wife, Ginger, have three sons, Derek, five years old, Paul, three and a half, and Cory, two. Their home is in Carmel Woods.

TALK ON DR. BERNE'S BOOK AT ALL SAINTS' SUNDAY

A feature of the new Sunday School program at All Saints' Episcopal Church is the 10 a.m. adult study and discussion group on Christian living. Next Sunday in the parish hall, a Carmel psychiatrist, Dr. Robert Goulding, will speak on and outline the theory of "transactional analysis" as developed in Dr. Eric Berne's book, "Games People Play." The meeting is open to the public, following the 9 a.m. Morning Prayer

Art News

A preview of the Monterey Peninsula chapter of the American Federation of Arts "Monterey County Painting—1965", a competitive show, will take place on Wednesday from 6-9 p.m. Admission will be $5. On Thursday, the show will be open to the public and remain on exhibit through October 30. All entries in the show will be judged by Alfred Frankenstein, San Francisco art critic. He will award three prizes of $300 each with an additional prize of a one-man show next June in the AFA gallery.

Through October 5, an exhibition of paintings by Peter Ind, a Big Sur artist, may be seen from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. daily, except Sundays, at Ring's restaurant on Abrego St., in Monterey.

The Catholic Chapel Guild of the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School announces that the third annual religious art show to be sponsored by this group will be held in mid-January. It will again be exhibited in Herrmann Hall. Entries will again be in three categories — amateur, professional and children. Chaplain Thomas J. Burke will be co-ordinator of the event and further information may be obtained by telephoning or writing the naval school.

A color slide lecture by Sophie Harpe on Iran, Iraq and India will be given tonight at 8:30 p.m. in the AFA gallery on Lincoln, south of Ocean.

Two Auditoriums Unnecessary For Carmel Cultural Center Sunset Commissioners Agree

Sunset commissioners on Monday night moved towards a feasibility study for a municipal cultural and community center and gave preliminary consideration to the functional uses of buildings and grounds.

A question from Commissioner James B. Pruitt elicited the unanimous opinion that two auditoriums were not desirable on the Sunset site but a new auditorium seating 1,200-1,500 persons might best meet the future needs of the community.

In the meantime, commissioners favored accepting Sunset "as is" and taking steps to remedy deficiencies and building deterioration while studying future new development, or adaption of present structures to the growing needs of cultural organizations.

Although remodelling is more expensive than new construction, retaining the present 734-seat auditorium on the Sunset site might be advantageous because the cost of demolishing the facility in order to construct a larger auditorium would be saved, Mr. Pruitt pointed out. He added that an analysis must be made, however, of the cost of bringing the auditorium up to the structural standards required for public buildings and suggested the possible addition of a 1,500-seat auditorium.

Mr. Pruitt was of the opinion that retaining the auditorium would dictate the design and style of additional development such as a fireproof facility for displaying art, or an additional auditorium.

Commissioner Admiral C. W. Fisher, disagreed. He had no objection to a study on an interim stage of development but ultimately favored a new complex with a 1,200-seat auditorium and thought architectural harmony was not necessary in the interim period.

Another commissioner, Mrs. W. E. van Loben Sels, suggested asking organizations belonging to the Peninsula Arts Council to specify what their needs would be for locating in any cultural center development. She favored a new 1,500-seat auditorium.

Chairman Peter Dyer stressed that attention should be given to long range larger musical productions in a 1,500-seat auditorium while conserving what the city has now at Sunset.

Commissioner Ted Fehring wanted "to spend money on what we have now," but realized that, in future, a 1,500-seat auditorium might be desirable.

Dr. James P. Gilman stated that his opinion as a Sunset commissioner was that the "core" of a cultural and community center was a good auditorium and he thought one multi-purpose facility of 1,500 seats would meet this requirement.

In other discussion centering around a feasibility study, attention was given to the establishment of paid parking as a means of financing the operation of a cultural and community center.

Mr. Pruitt remarked that the first step in any feasibility study was the work of the joint committee on parking of the city council and the planning and Sunset commissions. The second step was establishing the functional use of the buildings.

Monday night, Sunset commissioners again reviewed permitted uses. The ten reviewed included music (Bach Festival, symphony, opera, concerts, recitals); theatrical, both amateur and professional, (plays, musical comedies, vaudeville); cultural, (educational lectures); galleries (exhibits and sales); arts and crafts (classes and workshops); offices (related to approved uses); concessions (sales, food, bar, vending machines); paid parking; playgrounds; community and civic activities. These uses will be voted upon at the next commission meeting.

Commissioners voted not to include a city hall and city administrative offices in the Sunset uses.

Chairman Dyer was asked by other commissioners to reply to a letter from the California Arts Commission which proposed the services of a consultant. These services would be welcome in relation to the feasibility study, and if they were free, Mr. Dyer was asked to inform the state group.

center, they determined. The establishment of paid parking from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. seven days a week for $15 a month was comparable to charges of private parking lots now in operation in Carmel, the committee agreed.

The city revenue derived from renting stalls may be used, they considered, to assist in financing the operation of the center and accumulating funds for providing municipal parking lots at a future date when a new ordinance, now under consideration, is adopted. This law will require off-street parking, according to a floor space formula, for all new or more than 50 percent remodelled construction in the business district. If this parking cannot be provided on a site, an "in lieu" fee must be paid to the city for parking on municipal lots.

Admiral Fisher voted against use of the north playground area for parking. He favored initiating a pilot parking project on the south end of the Sunset site off Tenth Street.

In rebuttal to Admiral Fisher's stand, Mr. Whittlesey said, "We can't have our cake and eat it, too. We are preserving the playground feature of the north area. We have got to make a start somewhere."

"There is a serious need for parking in Carmel, certainly from the point of view of the business community, also most residents. The Sunset parking project will decide whether or not providing parking is an obligation that should be undertaken by the municipality, and if so, to what extent."

His attitude was reflected in statements by other committee members who thought the playground, being nearest to the business area, was the logical location for a pilot project.

One provision, however, which would materially aid the project, the committee agreed, was extending time limit parking into streets near Sunset Center where unlimited parking is now permitted. Such a provision coupled with the Sunset parking should eliminate much of the all-day parking of business people and their employees in the outlying areas of the commercial district, also on the fringes of the residence district.

Mr. Keeble emphasized that the proposed pilot parking project would be "guinea pig" in nature. All members of the committee agreed that the cooperation of the business people was vital to establishing the feasibility of public parking on the Sunset site.

The recommendations made by the joint committee on parking at Sunset Center will be given to the city council on Wednesday evening. The council will then decide whether or not to act on the matter.

Last night, committee members stressed that the project should be put into effect as soon as possible to test reactions of businessmen and residents to an exploratory solution of Carmel's parking problem.
